

CHURCH UNION A POSSIBILITY

Plan of Federation Is Being Developed by the Presbyterian Commission Now.

MEANS AN ECONOMY IN MISSIONS

Religious Agents of the Various Branches Will Be Established to Cover a Much Wider Field Than at Present.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 1.—The commission representing the seven branches of the Presbyterian church in this country meeting here, has decided on a plan of federation for the various churches. The most important step yet taken toward the ultimate goal of organic union was determined upon definitely.

Rev. Dr. J. D. Steele, secretary of the commission, says the plan provides for the establishment of a council, which will be called the "federal council of reformed churches in America, holding the Presbyterian system."

This council will have no power over the worship, creed or government of the churches, which will remain the same as they always have been.

Board of Arbitration.
The council, Dr. Steele says, will be practically a board of arbitration. It will be composed of four ministers and four laymen from each of the denominations represented, with an additional minister and elder from each church for each 200,000 communicants over 200,000. According to this agreement, the northern Presbyterian church with about 1,000,000 members will have sixteen representatives, and the other churches will be represented in proportion.

In mission work the federation will be a powerful factor. The constant aim of the federation will be to guard against duplication of agencies. Instead of having missionaries from the Presbyterian, Union Presbyterian and Dutch Reformed churches in the same places, the federation will divide the territory and assign various parts of it to the different churches.

Each church belonging to the federation will retain its own identity in all things.

Seven Churches Represented.
The seven churches which were represented on the commission are the Reformed Presbyterian church, general synod; the Reformed church in America, the Presbyterian church in the United States, the United Presbyterian church, the Cumberland Presbyterian church and the Reformed church in the United States.

The plan of federation as decided on by the commission contains seventeen articles. It is the desire of the commission that these articles shall not be published until after they have been passed on by the supreme judicatory bodies of the various churches.

JAPANESE LAND ON POINT NEAREST CITADEL TODAY

The Most Desperate Assault on Port Arthur Has Ended in a Complete Victory.

London, Dec. 1.—The capture of 203 Meter Hill by the Japanese, reported from Tokio this morning, is the climax of the most desperate assault of the Port Arthur siege, remarkable for the fierceness of its fighting. It probably marks the beginning of the end for Gen. Stoessel, for it was stated at the Japanese headquarters while the attack was in progress that the occupation of this height, dominating every part of the harbor, meant the completion of 90 per cent of the siege.

The capture of the hill forms a serious break in the line of inner defenses of Port Arthur, and, as indicated in recent dispatches, may prevent a retreat of the garrisons of the forts on the Liaut peninsula for a final stand.

Assault by High Order.
The assault, which was directed against the chain of forts on Sungshu, Ribing and Keekwan mountains, as well as 203-Meter hill, was begun on Nov. 26. The preparations of the Japanese, then near completion, were cut short by imperial order, and general engagement began.

A day later it was announced that the crests, gorges and counterescarpments of these heights were in the possession of the Japanese, but the time for the charge had not arrived. On Nov. 29 it was stated that the shelter trenches of the forts on 203 Meter hill were in the possession of the Japanese, and that the assault was directed against the whole fort. Yesterday the final attack began at 10 o'clock in the morning.

MILLIONAIRE LEAVES $50,000 TO A SERVANT

Municipal Bequest to Woman Who Had Been Faithful to Her Employer for Many Years.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 1.—Gertrude Tannehill of this city, for several years a servant in the New York house of Charles E. Hoyt, president of the Hoyt Metal company of St. Louis, has been bequeathed $50,000 by his will. The news came from a firm of New York lawyers representing the Hoyt estate. The millionaire died recently and when his will was opened it was found that he had rewarded seven years of service in his household in New York by making Miss Tannehill his heir to the extent of the amount named. Seven years ago Mr. Hoyt broke down under the strain of an unusually active career and it was then that the Wheeling girl entered his employ. She had the management of his New York home and a summer home at Algonquin, Me., and through her long years of service was frequently in sole charge of her invalid employer.

GOVERNOR OF ILLINOIS PROTECTS HIS SPOUSE

Prompt Action on Part of Executive Saves Wife From Serious Injury When Her Clothes Catch Fire.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 1.—Gov. Yates' presence of mind, prompt action and the sacrifice of his new winter overcoat Wednesday afternoon saved his wife from serious injury, which might have resulted fatally.

The executive and his wife were driving to their new home, now in course of construction near the entrance to Forest park, when Mrs. Yates' dress caught fire as the result of coming in contact with heated bricks in the bottom of the carriage.

Her gown was a mass of flame before the accident was discovered, and her screams from pain and fright attracted the attention of passers-by, who ran to the rescue. But they were too late. The governor has taken off his overcoat and smothered the flames long before outside help could arrive.

No personal injury was done to either, but both the dress and the overcoat were ruined.

A report gained credence on the streets that Mrs. Yates had been seriously burned and the telephone wires to the executive residence were kept hot with inquiries from anxious friends.

MORE MYSTERY NOW APPEARS

Mrs. Chadwick Announces She Will Settle All Claims Against Her in Full.

CLEVELAND MEN ARE NOT SO SURE

Famous Case Is Attracting the Attention of the Whole Country to Its Present Complicated Maneuvers.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 1.—At the request of Attorney Carr, representing Banker Newton, Judge Dubock this morning postponed until Saturday the hearing of Newton's motion for a receiver for Mrs. Chadwick's alleged securities in the Wade Park bank. The Cleveland federal officials have begun investigation to ascertain whether the Chadwick transactions were legitimate and if she did not use mails to further her ends. All peace negotiations between Mrs. Chadwick and Banker Newton are off. It is reported that warrants have been prepared for prominent Cleveland men, alleged to be accomplices in the huge swindle.

In New York.
New York, Dec. 1.—Edmund Powers, attorney for Mrs. Chadwick, said that a general conference of all the parties concerned in the Newton matter was held this afternoon, when the final details of settlement were arranged. He said Mrs. Chadwick will make a public statement soon. He reiterated the woman did not know Carnegie and that his name had never appeared in her papers. He admitted the woman's obligations would reach seven hundred thousand, but said she will have a million left after the settlement of all claims. She never has borrowed money on worthless collateral as is charged.

Hints of Friend's Aid.
"Mrs. Chadwick has many powerful friends in this city and in Cleveland who are interested in her case, and it will be settled amicably out of court. Of course, I am interested only in the settlement of Mr. Newton's claim, and I know nothing about any other claims against her."

In conclusion Mr. Ryall said that Mrs. Chadwick was indignant over the published stories connecting her with the once notorious Mme. Lydia Devere, and that when the case was settled she probably would bring suit against the persons responsible for connecting her name with the story.

Carnegie Not Involved.
Another attorney of Mrs. Chadwick's, Philip Carpenter, came out with the statement that Mrs. Chadwick denied that Andrew Carnegie ever had any connection with her financial affairs, and that the statements to the contrary appearing in the press were untrue. Attorney Carpenter said that Mrs. Chadwick was too ill to make any general statement at this time.

Mrs. Chadwick is said to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown as a result of the publicity which has followed the suit brought by Banker Newton. Two maids and a nurse are constantly in attendance in her apartments at Holland House, and a physician is always within call.

JOSEPH LEITER IS UNDER A VERY SERIOUS CHARGE

Charged With Having Brought Armed Men Across the State of Illinois Without Permission.

(SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-MORAE.)

Benton, Ill., Dec. 1.—Two companies of militia armed with rifles and four gatling guns were unable to quell a riot at Zeigler, mine last night. The firing on the camp began at ten and continued until four this morning. Four militia men were wounded.

Deputy Sheriff Stein escaped from the stockade at one this morning and gathered a posse of forty farmers, who rode into the mining camp and stopped the firing from the outside. Two additional companies of militia have been asked for. A posse of a hundred men leave here for Zeigler today. More trouble is feared tonight. Threats have been made to dynamite Leiters' million dollar coal plant.

All Is Quiet

Zeigler, Ill., Dec. 1.—Everything is quiet today. The striking miners say the firing last night was done by men connected with the Leiter mine for effect and to secure retention guards. None of the injured was the result of last night's shooting.

Three Counts in Indictment.

Leiter was indicted on three counts on the charge of bringing armed men into the state, contrary to recently passed statute. Henry L. Platte, Leiter's attorney, is named in the indictment.

TAX PAYER HAS PERTINENT TALK

DISCUSSES THE SELECTION OF A NEW CITY MARSHAL.

DESCRIBES AN IDEAL OFFICER

Urges Council to Drop Personal Affiliations in the Coming Contest.

To the Editor:

In answer to your invitation for articles on subjects of interest to Janesville I would like to see opinions on the question as to who should be the next city marshal. From present outlook it would appear that matters are at a standstill. Three men seem to have cornered all the votes and have divided them between themselves in such a manner as to exclude any possibility of electing any one man for the position. As this is an important matter and one which touches at the core the interests of the city and taxpayers it should be carefully threshed out and a selection made, which would do the most good for the preserving of peace and the enforcement of the laws.

The ideal city marshal should be a man of brains and courage; a man used to police duties and one with whom the hoodlums could not trifle. He need not be a brute but should have strength and head power to use his strength judiciously. He should be experienced in keeping the peace and enforcing the laws; a man who does not play favorites or try to please one faction at the expense of another. He should be a man who can control his temper and be able to withstand criticism without losing his head. He should be a man insured to hardship, of quick perception and up-to-date manner and methods; a man who can handle roughs and toughs easily and at the same time be smooth enough to catch the polite crook. Above all he should be a man who has been accustomed to work at all hours of the night and day and who is young enough to stand the strain of such work without breaking down.

Take Him Quick
If in the minds of the council members there is such a man who has been presented as a candidate, he is the man for the position. Take him quickly. Fraternal obligations, society obligations should not be counted by those acting for the citizens. The best man for the place should be the motto and be it John Brown, or John Comstock, or William Appleby, or George Appleby, or Theo. Acheson, he should be elected at once and given full power to reorganize the department. It has been rumored that two of the best policemen in the city will resign if one of the candidates now being talked of is elected. This is a sad feature of the present fight and perhaps under the existing circumstances a compromise candidate might be well picked out, providing no decision can be reached on those now presented for consideration. A TAXPAYER.

TWENTY-NINE DIE OF THEIR WOUNDS

Wisconsin Hunters Wearing Buff Colored Clothes, Mistaken for Deer by Other Hunters.

Twenty-nine dead, fifteen seriously injured. This is the record of the deer-hunting season which began November 11 and closed yesterday in Wisconsin. Each case was a repetition of the old story. Each death and injury is believed to have been accidental. Each man or boy killed or hurt was mistaken for deer. For some reason, never explained, the coats worn are buff-colored, as a rule. Some hunters wear colored caps. Consequently when experienced men have difficulty in distinguishing fellow hunters from game at a distance or in thick woods—if they don't wait to think about it—and a bullet often finds its mark in human flesh. Hunters report that lack of snow made the sport tame. This lack of snow, in some measure, explains the large casualty list, objects being distinguishable more clearly when the ground is white.

GIVES RELIEF QUICKLY.

Regular Use of Hyomel Cures Most Stubborn Cases of Catarrh.

No other medicine gives such prompt relief as Hyomel in the treatment of catarrh.

The first breath of this remedy soothes and heals the irritated and smarting air passages, and the regular use for a few days or weeks will cure the most stubborn case. Some of the reports of those who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomel read like miracles.

John S. Gray of Redmond Hills, Pa., writes: "I am 52 years old and have been a sufferer with catarrh in the head for 25 or 30 years. I have doctored with many specialists and they all told me that my case was incurable on account of my age. After using Hyomel a short time I was greatly benefited and can now say that I am entirely cured. It has been six months since I stopped using the remedy and I still remain cured."

The complete Hyomel outfit costs but $1.00, consisting of an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomel to last several weeks. This will effect a cure in ordinary cases, but for chronic and deep-seated cases of catarrh, longer use may be necessary, and then extra bottles of Hyomel can be obtained for 50c.

Probably the strongest evidence that can be offered as to the powers of Hyomel to cure catarrh is the fact that the Peoples Drug Co. will agree to refund the money if you say that Hyomel has not helped you.

WISCONSIN FOURTH IN THE LISTS

Is a Leading Fermenting Liqueur Producing State—The Internal Revenue Report.

In connection with the discussion of tariff revision and talk of a probable deficit in the United States treasury at the end of the fiscal year, the annual report of Internal Revenue Commissioner Yerkes is of vital importance.

That document informed Secretary Shaw of the treasury yesterday afternoon that the internal revenue receipts for the year ended June 30, 1904, were $2,290,000,432, an excess over the previous year of $2,163,079.41, but he calls attention to the fact, that the receipts for the first three months of the current year, show a decrease in comparison with the collections for the same period a year ago, and he estimates that there will be decrease of nearly $3,000,000, in the receipts for the year ending June 30, 1905.

The commissioner sees one method of decreasing expenses and increasing revenues. He recommends by the proper legislative enactment the imposition of a tax upon grape brandy withdrawn to fortify sweet wines, and the issue of tax-paid stamps to be affixed to all packages withdrawn from bonded warehouses and to all packages of brandy produced by the maker of sweet wines, who is also a distiller. The commissioner says the increase of production is remarkable. The present cost to the government of supervising the use of grape brandy for rectification purposes is estimated at from $25,000 to $30,000 a year.

The leading states in the payment of internal taxes for the past year are: Illinois, $2,164,271.53; New York, $2,375,125.38; Indiana, $2,102,371.83; Kentucky, $2,177,735.22; Ohio, $2,101,416.31; Pennsylvania, $1,874,540.59.

The four states which produced the largest quantity of fermented liquor are, New York, 10,691,868 barrels; Pennsylvania, 6,123,936 barrels; Illinois, 4,622,446 barrels; and Wisconsin, 4,035,292 barrels.

The four states producing the greatest number of cigars, weighing more than three pounds per thousand, and the production of each during the years are: Pennsylvania, 1,476,038; New York, 1,111,535,248; Ohio, 695,614,548; and New Jersey, 406,061,979.

The states of Missouri, North Carolina, Kentucky and Virginia, in the order named, were the largest producers of both smoking and chewing tobacco.

EARTH NEAREST TO SUN AT NEW YEAR

At Midnight of December 31 We Are Three Million Miles Nearer to Sun Than on July 4.

The Reverend Doctor and Weather Prophet, Ira Hicks in his almanac has prepared a study of the planets in December as follows: At the opening of the month we are at our winter solstice point and only a few days from the point where we started on our 1904 voyage around the sun. All the familiar glories of the mid-winter skies are blaring through the heavens, from Sagittarius at the sunset, clean round to Scorpio at daylight. At by himself, over the quiet, solemn hours between midnight and daylight, the planet Mars pushes his way up the eastern vault of the heavens. At daylight he is east of the meridian, and his round, red face will easily identify him and the stars in an d about the constellation Virgo. Mars is constantly and rapidly growing brighter, as our earth turns him and lessens the distance that lies between us.

The planets Mercury and Venus may easily be seen above the sunset, especially in latitudes well to the south. On the 4th of the month, Mercury is at his greatest heliocentric distance south from the sun, and Venus is just twenty-four hours later, or at 1 o'clock a. m. on the same day reaches the same heliocentric distance south from the sun. These added to the fact that they are in the southern part of the ecliptic, may prevent observers in the northern parts of the country from seeing these planets well in December, especially the planet Mercury. But passengers near the equator and in the southern hemisphere will have fine views of both. Venus will gradually work northward and come very conspicuous to all sections before her reign as evening star is ended.

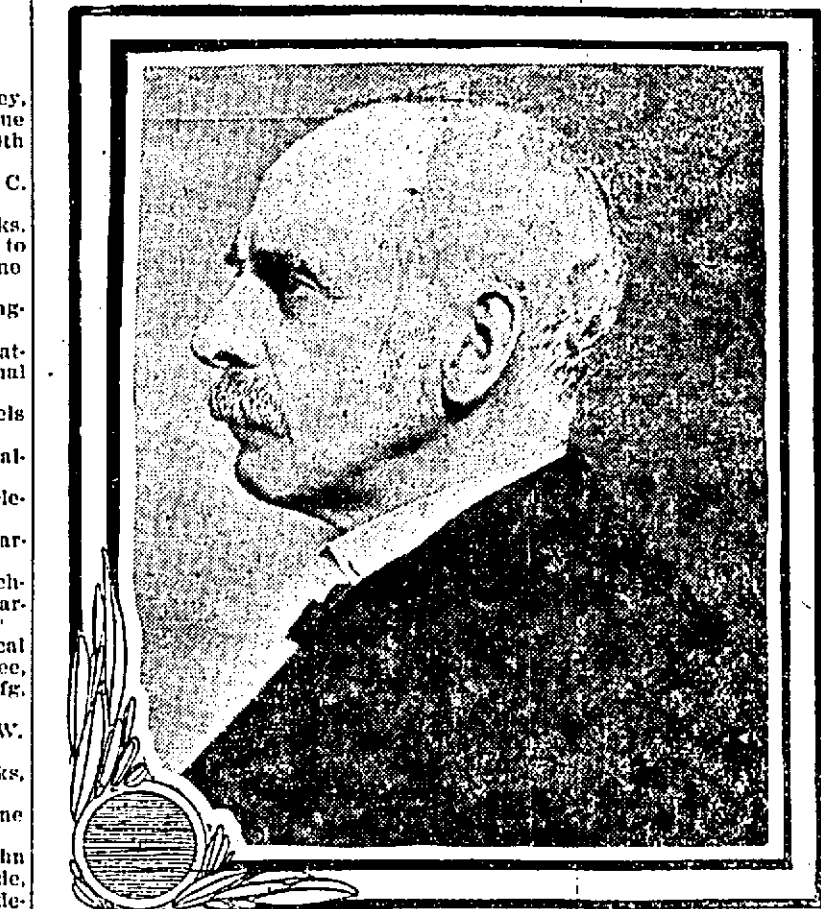

Venus and Saturn ought to appear near each other from the sunset point on the earth. On the 28th of the month Venus will appear less than one degree to the south of Saturn. If the sky is clear these two planets may be seen near each other for several days—Venus finally passing east of Saturn the closing days of December. Mercury passes between the Earth and Sun on the 31st, and not far from the same hour the Earth passes her perihelion, or nearest point to the sun. Exactly at midnight, or at the moment of passing out of the old into the new year, our earthship will pass closest to the sun, at which time we will be over three millions of miles nearer the sun than we were on the 4th of July. Mercury will also be in perihelion about the time of his conjunction with sun and earth on the 27th.

On the 25th, the same day of the conjunction of Venus and Saturn, the earth will pass between the sun and the planet Neptune. This will be at 5 p. m., December 25th, while on the 22nd, at 4 a. m., the planet Uranus will be in conjunction with the earth and sun. These numerous phenomena concentrated into such short space of time are well worth mentioning. Within the next year, or two the planets Uranus and Neptune, and the conjunction of Uranus together, at almost at the closing hours of the year—a thing none of us now voyaging around the sun will live to see again.

Great Jupiter, is squarely on the meridian at sunset. He will stand over your head in the sky. Go out and look up and see. If you don't believe that his bright star over your head at sunset is Jupiter, look at him in the telescope and see his sparkling moons dance around him, and you will give it up. At this time Jupiter does not set until midnight, giving good views in the telescope through the early hours of the evening.

RINGLINGS NOT TO MAKE A COMBINE

Deny That They Are To Be Associated with the Barnum & Bailey Circus.

The report that the Ringling Brothers' and Barnum & Bailey's circuses will combine next season is denied by Charles Ringling. In an interview sent out from Baraboo, he says an understanding has been reached whereby the routes will be laid out in the future so that there will be no conflict in the territory covered by the two big shows. It has not yet been decided where Ringlings will open next season. One important matter the two big circuses have agreed upon is the practical abolishment of free passes in payment for window posters. The two shows will also wage war upon excessive license fees.

These added to the fact that they are in the southern part of the ecliptic, may prevent observers in the northern parts of the country from seeing these planets well in December, especially the planet Mercury. But passengers near the equator and in the southern hemisphere will have fine views of both. To Receive the Order Tomorrow Evening—Rooms Made Very Attractive.

Tomorrow evening Janesville Aerle No. 721 of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will occupy for the first time the new hall and suite of three rooms on the third floor of the Young America block on South Main street. Carpenters, decorators, and plumbers have been busily engaged for some weeks in fitting out these apartments and everything is now spick and span for the occupancy of the young lodge which now has a membership of 98 and is soon to initiate a class of twenty-five. New wall-paper in warm and attractive colors, hard wood flooring, bright chandeliers for the electric lights, raised platforms in the 60x20 foot lodge room with heavy oak furniture, have all been installed and the work of the painters in retouching the woodwork has been completed. Besides the hall there is a reception room, a store-room, and a lavatory. The committee in charge of the work which has just been completed consisted of J. C. Nichols, Robert Hockett, Roy Graves, Edward Amerphol, and Dr. W. D. Merritt. L. L. Leffingwell, E. B. Connors, and John Fulton served on the furniture committee. Of General Interest
The railroads running out of New York are angry with the Western lines for offering reduced rates to students at the big Eastern colleges, and universities, who wish to spend the holidays at their homes. Recently the Western roads agreed to make half fares to students living west of the Missouri river and a rate of 2c a mile to those living between Chicago and the Missouri river. At the request of the presidents of the Eastern educational institutions, the Western lines sent them certificates entitling their students to the special holiday rates. The Eastern lines met in New York and refused to make any reduction in rates for students going to their homes for the holidays.

The executive committee of the American Railway Engineers and Maintenance of Way association met in Chicago recently. Plans were being made for the next convention of the association, to be held on the parlor floor and in the banquet hall of the Auditorium during the latter part of April. The work of the committee was in drawing up subjects for symposiums, outlining the various papers to be prepared and arranging the program for the meeting. Railroad men from all over the world are expected to attend this meeting and three entire floors of the big hotel will be thrown open to it.

Baraboo.—An accident befell the 11:40 passenger train a short distance this side of Merrimack Monday morning. A plug blew out and the cab was immediately filled with escaping steam and Engineer T. D. Byrne and Fireman Herman Koenecke were rendered helpless while the train went by the station at full speed. The trainmen realized that something was wrong at the front end and pulled the air brakes, bringing the train to a standstill on the Wisconsin river bridge. A freight train was at the station and the train was brought back. The accident was reported to the general office here and an engine containing Dr. Enclien and Assistant Superintendent Brown went to the scene. Engineer Byrne was brought home on No. 1 and taken to his home. Although his burns are very painful and severe it is thought he will recover. Fireman Koenecke was scalded but not so severely as his superior. The engine sent down took the place of the crippled engine.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janeville Daily Gazette, Thursday, December 1, 1864.—James H. Ernest whose election from the usually democratic county of Lafayette to the state senate has for some time been taken for granted, it now appears is defeated by the soldier's vote, and Samuel Cole, union, elected in his stead. Mr. Cole once represented that county in the Senate. He was a member of the assembly two years ago, is a war democrat and a union man. He will be a decided improvement over his predecessor in every respect.

A Good Thing.—Two members of the last State Senate were habitual drunkards and a disgrace to that body in consequence.

We are glad to see that both of these sots have the sweet privilege of remaining at home this winter to drink and buck the tiger in solitude. A good thing for the Senate and a credit to the people.

It is said that the issue of the last printers' strike in New York has been disastrous to the last degree to those engaged in it. Their union society is wholly broken up. Many of them are thrown out of work and surely out of excellent situations.

coming Santos crop at 6,000,000 bags, while the rather full primary receipts have been offset to some extent by the estimate coming from good Brazilian sources to the effect that 85 per cent of the Santos crop had already been marketed.

Of course the big American visible supply indicates that there is plenty of high grade coffee available for delivery on contract. A slight grades are undesirable from a standpoint of the roaster for package coffee, they are less readily marketable in the local market than the medium grades. If, therefore, any of the large trade interests were in a position to profit by a decline at this time, heavy deliveries would probably be made with a view to breaking the market.

But the big visible supply indicates trade interest own too much coffee to want to see a break at this time, for it is impossible that they are sufficiently short of futures to make enough profit to offset the loss on their spots. Later, as these interests dispose of their spot holdings, they may try to cause depression by notices. As it is, we expect a steady and advancing market. Next month we look for very small receipts. The shrinkage in the visible supply statement this month may be disappointing and lead to a slight decline, on which we think the market will receive good support.

Your very truly,
J. S. BACHE & CO.

AMONG THE
WORLD'S WORKERS

News Notes From Various Sources of Great Interest to the Workingman.

Notices have been posted at the mills of the five big mines of the Telluride region that the eight hour day will prevail in the mills. The plants concerned are Smuggler, Union, Liberty Bell, Tombor, Nellie and Alta. It was the demand for this concession in the mills of the state that precipitated the strike in the mills and mines of Colorado and caused the bitter strife between unionists and mine owners in the Telluride and Cripple Creek regions. The minimum wage promised under the new arrangement is $3 a day. At one time the Western Federation of Miners offered to accept $2.50 for an eight hour day. While no authorized announcement to that effect has yet been made, it is the general opinion that under the new order, no discrimination will be made against the employment of union men.

The New York trades unions, which have started the movement for a new board of building trades, to take the place of the Building Trades Council, are to build up a strong body before January 1, so that in case the building fight is renewed in the spring they will be ready for it. The plan now is, if the unions are forced into acceptance of the arbitration agreement, to have a strike in the spring, in which all the unions at the building trades will join.

Under private enterprise the employees of the London, Dordford, and Greenwich tramways, worked from seventy to ninety hours in a week of seven days, for 4s 9d for drivers and 4s for conductors. The county council has municipalized the cars and reduced the hours to sixty, and raised the pay of drivers to 5s 9d and of conductors to 5s.

In 1906 the wages of employees of the Swiss government railways will undergo the customary triennial increase.

Pennsylvania orators say that the October production of anthracite coal will exceed that of other years by over 1,000,000 tons. The steady work at the mines is expected to continue until January.

All of the players of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, who were members of the Boston Musicians' Union, have resigned. There are 94 players in the orchestra, and of this number 77 were members of the union. The resignations began to come in more than a month ago. They have continued to come in gradually ever since.

A million dollars was distributed last Saturday in wages to the steel and iron workers at the Homestead, Braddock and Duquesne plants of the Carnegie Steel Co., and the American Wire Company plants at Rankin and Braddock. Almost unprecedented prosperity marks the situation in Western Pennsylvania at present. It is like the boom of years in the steel industry. The shape mill department of the Homestead plant is working night and day on structural iron and steel. Contracts for more than 30,000 tons of such material have been contracted for in the last few days.

GRAIN REPORTS SHOW UP WELL

New York Letter on Cereals and the Market Point to Good Prices.

GRAIN

New York, Nov. 30, 1904.—WHEAT:—It has been an irregular week in the grain market with prices at times showing marked weakness and May here quoted about 2 cents under the close of last week, but more recently prices have firmed up a cent or so from the lowest, and for the week are about 1/2 to 3/4 cents net lower. The factors in checking the decline were reports of wet weather in the Argentine, as to which considerable doubt exists; continued dry weather in the Southwest, and the small increase for the week in Northwest stocks as well as a slight falling off in the Argentine shipments as compared with the previous week.

Broomfield cables have right along contended that no harm was coming to the Argentine crop and most of the reports of damage are received from private sources. Just how much they amount to, we shall have to wait to determine, but we do not think that any serious damage has been done. As for prospects for the winter wheat crop, while the droughty conditions complained of have continued for some time, the ground was well soaked previously, and the Price Current says that the prospect is promising. Reports of rain or snow over the winter wheat area, would probably break the market. While wheat is now well down from the top, it is to our mind too high to be free from good reactions, and we expect continued irregular fluctuations, with the immediate trend downward. Important western interests appear to be scalping the market for pretty wide fluctuations, and we think that we should follow the example. May wheat in the New York market for instance ought to be sold at anything over 11 1/2 cents, while, on a decline of a cent or so a bushel, we should cover, and in the event of further weakness or a sharp break, buy for a turn, although in going long of the market we should do so with an eye to the situation in the Far East, as we believe the surrender of Port Arthur would prove a bear argument in wheat.

CORN:—Some three weeks ago we pointed out that the heavy premium commanded by wheat over corn was abnormal. At that time May wheat was selling 63 1/2 cents over May corn, and the difference is now about 60 1/2, this being a shrinkage of about a cent a bushel during the week just ended. For that period the prices of corn has advanced about 1/4 to 3/4 cents. Reports from the west continue to indicate disappointing yields of corn and the comparatively warm weather is not tending to better the grading. The December option here appears to be pretty well evened up, but is more active in Chicago, and it would not surprise us to see some further flurry of shorts in that month before it matures. At any rate and while we would not buy corn on any bulge, we think on the whole that purchases on breaks or as a hedge to short sales of wheat would be the best policy. Oats have gained with corn and in about like measure. We have no decided opinion on oats and can see nothing in them except as a scalping proposition.

PROVISIONS:—Provisions have continued quiet. The hog movement is running liberal, but hog products are selling at a reasonable price in view of the quotations for feedstuffs, and we should continue the policy of buying for a turn on good reactions.

COFFEE:—It has been an active week in the coffee market owing to the switching by December longs out of that position and into the latter months as a result of notice days which fell on Saturday. These operations have resulted in a widening of the differences between December and September, trade interests evidently found a banking profit in making the exchanges, and the market has shown pretty steady tone on the whole with prices for the week net 5 points lower to 5 points higher.

Several cables have been received concerning the probable Rio crop, as to which it may be recalled we published a cable last week, estimating it at 5,000,000 bags. Notably among the reports received this week was one from Doane & Co., a conservative house, estimating the coming Rio crop at 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 bags, which is more in line with popular sentiment. Other advices have been received placing the Rio crop at about 2,750,000 to 3,000,000 bags and the credit to the people.

Partly cloudy with possible snow

bursts tonight; Friday colder.

In your store you probably have one article, the individual merit of which is interesting.

There is probably some distinctive feature of your business which if generally known would increase the patronage. Most people are too absorbed with countless details to think of you unless constantly reminded

in your advertisements.

THE SOUTH IN POLITICS.

Southern newspapers and politicians

continue to discuss with frank concern their sections' isolated role in national politics. The breakdown of the "reorganized" democracy has left the South without either an inteelligible political program or national political attachments. Having repudiated Bryanism at the instigation of the "safe and sane" rainbow chasers

who managed Judge Parker's

canvass, the Southern leaders now find that they were duped into an alliance politically far less profitable

than the coalition they had maintained

in the eight years preceding, with

Northern and Western radicalism.

Overwhelmed by the failure of the humbly campaign conducted in Judge

Parker's interest, Southern democrats

now proclaim themselves disgusted

with "safe and sane" democracy.

But what is the South to do and where is it to look for new political alliances? In some quarters it has been suggested that the Southern states cut loose entirely from both wings of Northern democracy and actually, both in congress and in the electoral college, as an independent sectional unit, much as the Irish contingent in parliament acts at Westminster. An indignant Georgian urged only the other day, that, to emphasize the South's repudiation of the disrupted Northern democracy,

the Southern electors should unite with those chosen by "the solid

North" and give a unanimous vote for Roosevelt and Fairbanks. Such extreme counsel will, of course, be disregarded, and the South will give its electoral ballots—though perhaps perfunctorily and grudgingly—to

Parker and Davis. But the feeling now finding vehement expression in the Southern newspapers will doubtless lead to a material readjustment of the South's attitude toward national policies and national issues. That section must either draw still further apart from the normal political life of the nation or it must break

its solidarity and allow its voting population to divide along the natural lines of race and conservatism.

After the fiasco of 1904 the Northern democracy seems certain to turn for rehabilitation to radical leadership and radical issues. The "conservative democracy" preached by Mr. Cleveland and his imitators is a hopeless paradox. The democratic party is in its traditions and essence a radical party, and its only future lies in a frank acknowledgment of radical purposes. Mr. Bryan, not Mr. Cleveland

or Mr. Parker, is the party's can comply with the other necessary

requirements of the laws. As a result of this system there are nearly 14,000 banks in the United States. But the independent banks have learned that their stability and business are best promoted by cooperation, and hence there has developed a large measure of federation between them. The organization of clearing houses and banking associations, and notably, in New York the issuance of loan certificates in times of panic, have all been measures of federation for the protection of the banks.

In the past few years there has been another development in which concentration takes the place of federation, and this development is making very rapid strides. So far has it already gone that many believe that it will result, in the not far distant future, in there being a few great banks in the leading cities with branches scattered all over the country. Others believe that it will result in the establishment of an immense central government bank or reserve to which all the other banks of the United States will be subordinate.

It is true, then we are near the parting of the ways in the field of banking. On the one side there is independence and on the other side concentration. On the one side there is system of federation and on the other a system of monopoly.

Now it is plain that each system has its advantages and its evils, its points of strength and its elements of weakness. It is idle to deny that there is much to be said in behalf of the development towards banking concentration. Carried up to a certain point there can be no doubt indeed that it would be, on the whole advantageous to the country. But the great trouble is that, when such a movement begins, it is apt to go to a dangerous extreme. The best efficiency and safety in banking would no doubt be found at this point somewhere midway between a concentration of banking power that would practically put the control of the money markets of the country in the hands of a few bankers, and such independence in banking as would diffuse that power among thousands of bankers. The chief danger at present is that the tendency towards concentration will be carried too far,

and that it will put the credits of the country too largely under the control of men more concerned in the operations of Wall street than in the commerce of the country.

THE CZAR'S OPPORTUNITY.

No greater opportunity is in the grasp of any other living man than that which now presents itself to the Czar of Russia. It has the courage and foresight to give his people

a system of representative and constitutional government, he will enroll

his name on the list of the world's immortals. If he has not the courage and the intelligence to do this by the exercise of his own initiative and power, it is only a question of time

when the people of Russia will establish representative government by an expression of their own power regardless of the will of the Czar.

There is a widespread impression that out of the war, between Russia and Japan, no matter how it may end,

will develop great things for Russia.

It should hasten the liberalizing of her government and the reform of her administration, and these are the only things needed to put Russia upon the highway of progress in things intellectual and things material. Very significant indeed is the recent assembly of representatives of Russian opera "Tannhauser" being performed

at the first one.

That college football player who is charged with having been a professional prize fighter may fall to see wherein he is to blame for continuing in the same general line of employment.

Fishermen who take their vessels out in the waters anywhere east of Suez will have to exercise extreme caution these days. The Baltic fleet is drawing near.

When he got his new automobile

Gen. Kuropatkin is said to have remarked: "I have the advantage of Gen. Shafter." Still, the latter organized victory from his hammock.

A current newspaper story says that Senator Tillman admires President Roosevelt. The campaign is closed, however, so this remark

cannot lose the president and votes.

Before sending Senator Fairbanks

1908 boom out on the main line would it not be well to find out whether the Root and Taft booms have been run

on to sidings?

Inhabitants of the strenuous town of Ziegler should not get it into their heads that they live in Colorado.

Thus far no one has observed that the Standard Oil magnates are quaking with nervous apprehension.

At least the Standard Oil company will not lie down and be good until

it has pulled a few strings.

It would not do for a man who stutters to deliver an address of welcome to Teddy.

Missouri, it appears from the returns

is a republican when the democratic voters stay at home.

Uncle Joe Cannon says congress is going to keep down expenses. Uncle

Joe always was a joker.

Gen. Kuropatkin now rides in an automobile. What more could his enemies ask?

Port Arthur always did believe in taking its time.

Santa Claus is after your money.

POWERS LEAGUE

NOT A SUCCESS

Green Bay Only Fox Valley City That

Really Believes in

It.

With the exception of Green Bay,

every city in the Fox River valley has gone back on the John T. Powers proposition for the organization of a

Wisconsin State Baseball league,

which originally included Janesville

in the list. Oshkosh, Fond du Lac,

Appleton and Kaukauna were considered as becoming members of the league, and enthusiasts and promoters of the national game in every one of those cities have transferred their allegiance to what is now being organized and will be known as the

Fox River Valley Interurban Baseball

league, says an Appleton dispatch.

The cities to be represented in this league will be Fond du Lac, Oshkosh,

Neenah, Kaukauna, and if Green Bay

wishes to come in that city will be given preference over Manitowish.

William Lyons of Appleton has taken

the matter in hand and has held conferences with baseball men in all the cities interested and in every instance he has been given assurance that his proposition will be accepted

in preference to that of the Chicago

baseball promoter.

of Conditions and Maximum
and Minimum Temperatures.

Despite the Indian summer weather that lasted up to Thanksgiving day and nearly through the month of November, the month on an average, according to the registered thermometer, has been more than ten degrees colder than October—the general average for this month being 39.4 degrees and that of October 50.5. The average maximum temperature during the last thirty days has fallen from the average maximum mark of the preceding month of 60 to 48 and the average minimum has dropped from 30.8 to 21.7. The maximum has been at the freezing point or below four times—all four times having been during the last week and the minimum has been above the freezing point just fifteen days, or half the month. The highest temperature recorded was on the 23 and 24 days, when the thermometer stood at the 65 degree mark, and the lowest point to which the thermometer has fallen is 12, where it stood yesterday as the minimum temperature of the day. There have been nineteen days when the sky was clear and what could be termed pleasant days during the month, while but nine days of inclement weather have been experienced. There have been few rains or snows to speak of and what precipitation there was either in the form of snow or rain has been very light. The month has been one of the warmest and pleasantest Novembers that can be remembered by many.

SET ASIDE WILL OF MUELLENSCHLADER

Jury Brought in a Verdict After Being Out Twenty Minutes
This Morning.

After being out twenty minutes this morning, the jury considering the matter of the will of Herman Muelenschlager brought in a verdict affirming the decision of the county court that the testator was not in the full possession of his normal mental faculties at the time the document was drawn and that it should not be allowed to stand. Muelenschlager made bequests of $2,000 each to his brother, and to his partner, Charles Treloft, out of an estate of about $12,000 in this country and Germany. He left a widow and two children and the former objected to this disposition of the property. Expert testimony was given by Dr. Buckmaster to the effect that Muelenschlager, suffering great agony with peritonitis and dying five minutes after the will was finished, could not have been in full possession of his mental faculties when the document was witnessed, and probably not when he made his mark thereon. M. G. Jeffris, John J. Cunningham, and M. O. Mount represented Mrs. Muelenschlager and W. G. Wheeler and George Sutherland, the proponents of the will.

WANTS $6,000 FROM LANPHIER

MRS. L. K. STANLEY COMMENCES
SUIT IN MILWAUKEE

AGAINST A LOCAL MAN

Claims $5,000 for Services as Housekeeper and $1,000 for Chattels Detained.

For services as a housekeeper, Mrs. L. K. Stanley of Milwaukee has commenced suit against J. H. Lanphier, who conducts a restaurant at No. 31 North Main street for $5,000. The alleged services date from February, 1881, to October, 1900. The plaintiff claims that she was married when she was five years of age and was deserted by her husband when her son was five years old. When she entered the defendant's employ as housekeeper she alleges that it was under an agreement that he would support her child and pay her what her services were reasonably worth. The year her child died and the plaintiff is now demanding accrued wages—the rate of $5 a week for twenty years. She says that she has only received $15.

Says She Was Free Boarder
When interviewed this morning Mr. Lanphier treated the matter lightly—almost scornfully. He said that the woman had never been his housekeeper but that for a time she rented a room in the same building where the restaurant is located and boarded at the restaurant. She actually worked only one week, according to the landlord, and for the rest of the time she alleges that she was a "free boarder." He claims that she did a great deal for her, partially supporting her for a long time. Mr. Lanphier now ventures the opinion that she is not sound mentally.

WAS THE FIRST IMPROVED VAULT

Dan Ryan Talks About the New Method of Using Steel Vaults
—But One in Cemetery.

Last evening The Gazette published an article describing the use of steel vaults for burial purposes in place of the old-style brick-lined graves. It stated that the first improved vault of this description was about to be placed in the cemetery here. The morning paper took exception to this statement, however, and said The Gazette was behind the times six years. It quoted one dealer in such commodities as saying that during the past six years he had placed several such vaults in the cemetery. Dr. Ryan and Sons was the firm who had used the steel vault in question. Dan Ryan, of this firm, said this morning: "Up to the time I placed the steel vault in the cemetery today there was but one other of any description in use there. This is the one which R. J. Scott, the sexton of the cemetery for the past thirty-two years, purchased last January and which he said had been a sample here for several years. It is upon Mr. Scott's assertion that I base my statement that at the present time there are but two steel vaults in the cemetery—not several as stated in the morning paper. Steel vaults are fourteen years old, but the one I used today has but recently been perfected and is the first up-to-date steel vault ever used in Janesville. The old ones weighed in the neighborhood of three hundred pounds, while the new ones weigh four hundred and fifty. They have ten locks which fasten on the inside, making them in every respect as tightly shut when the lid is down as the vault of a bank. It would take lots of work to open one of these after it is once closed. They do away with the old-style brick-lined graves and are much more secure and satisfactory."

CODMAN CLAIMS
HE DIDN'T DO IT
Milton Junction Man Pleads Not Guilty to Charge of Pointing Gun at Wm. Hall.

In municipal court today Dr. B. M. Codman of Milton Junction, arrested on the charge of pointing a revolver at and applying abusive language to William Hall, also of that town, pleaded not guilty and his trial is set for Monday next. Codman is a manufacturer of patent medicine. It is claimed that there had been bad feeling between the two dating from a time when Hall put some money in Codman's business. The immediate cause of the street fight was a disagreement over the question of incorporating Milton Junction into a village. It is alleged that Codman knocked Hall down, that Hall drew a knife and that Codman then drew a revolver. Another lively fracas over the election occurred the same day with George Hassinger and W. A. Dodd as the principals.

FEW ATTRACTIONS
NOW AVAILABLE
Stellar Artists and Companies Are Playing in Big Dramatic Centres—Local Bookings for the Month.

Just at this time there is a dearth in available theatrical attractions, an unusual number of the leading artists and companies being booked for long runs in the large cities of the east. The opening of many new theaters in these cities has so increased the demand that the cities supporting one night stands will have to wait until later in the season. Many of the companies which the theatrical syndicate had expected to send out on the road, have been called to the large cities and their bookings in the smaller places cancelled. On this account next week will be a quiet one at the Myers theatre. The bookings for the month of December are as follows: The Kennedy Players, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week; "Human Hearts" on Dec. 13; Selma Herman in the emotional drama, "Wedded But No Wife," on Dec. 16; William Borell in "An American Gentleman" on Dec. 20; "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" on Dec. 21; the melodrama "Wife in Name Only" on Dec. 24. Manager Myers has cancelled his booking of "Wizards" for Christmas day and is looking for something to fill this important open date.

FOR TWENTY YEARS.

Not An Unusual Instance

"I used Pyramid Pile Cure and have not had any trouble since. I have been a sufferer with piles for twenty years. I think it is the best remedy on earth for piles. Hoping this may help others to use this remedy." Mrs. J. D. Teller, R. F. D. 20, Sparta, Mich.

It is a singular fact that although many women suffer from piles, or hemorrhoids, they frequently do not have proper treatment because of a delicacy women have in mentioning such a subject. Especially is this the case with those who have no husband or brother in whom they can confide, and a physician is seldom consulted until the pain and agony incident to piles becomes unbearable.

Thousands of women have suffered even longer than did Mrs. Teller, always experiencing slight or temporary relief, if any, from the various remedies used and finally settling down to the conviction that a cure in their cases was impossible. Pyramid Pile Cure has come as a boon to all such, as it seldom, if ever fails to effect a permanent cure. It is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed by the makers to any address, upon receipt of price. Absolute secrecy is guaranteed, and no name is ever used without the consent of the writer.

It is suggested that those interested write to Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book describing the causes and cure of piles, as it is sent free for the asking.

CROW IS A CHRONOMETER.

Bird Marks Time for a Cuckoo Clock by Cawing the Hours.

George Wreake of Sibley township, near Le Sueur, Minn., has a pet crow, Bob, which has been with him four years and, which he claims is the most intelligent and useful bird living.

There is in the Wreake home an old heirloom, a beautiful cuckoo clock, brought from Switzerland in pioneer days; one of the kind that have a little door at the top in front, out of which springs a little bird every sixty minutes and calls the hours.

After the crow had been in the family about two years he began to mock the clock cuckoo, and this finally grew to be a passion with him, so that he hardly ever failed to give a melodious "caw" when the clock cuckoo was calling the hour.

Some six months ago the clock fell and the striking, or cuckoo part, was completely broken, so that the door never open and the bird never comes out. This appears to be a great puzzle to Bob, for he watched the clock for several days and seemed to be studying deeply.

At last, however, he came to a conclusion and greatly startled the family by taking up the duty the cuckoo had previously performed, and counting out the hours perfectly, at the exact moment, with a clear call of "caw" for every hour the clock ought to have struck, one for 1 o'clock, five for 5 o'clock, and so on around the circle.

He has kept his work up to the present time and calls every hour when he can see the face of the clock as regularly and as perfectly as an ordinary timepiece with its hammer and bell.

If a lamp be set at night where the light falls on the face of the clock, the crow, though he will doze between times on his perch, will waken up and call every hour all night long. —Milwaukee Times.

To Avoid Pain.

Two men of different nationalities lay side by side in the ward for rheumatic patients in a downtown hospital. One of them, an Irishman, was twisting the other on the lack of fortune in bearing pain.

After a time an attendant came in and began to massage the patients. When it came the Irishman's turn he grunted and swore softly to himself. Then he turned on his side with a twinkle in his eyes, to watch the other man. To his surprise the other seemed rather to enjoy the operation. It was too much for the Irishman's curiosity.

"How in thunder did you stand it so well?" he demanded.

"You don't think that I was fool enough to give him the sick leg to work on, do you?" was the answer. —New York Sun.

High Class Druggists

AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or official names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

COLLEGE COURSE IN BAKING

President Stone of Purdue University Favors Its Establishment.

Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 1.—At the state convention of the Master Bakers' association a letter was read from President Stone of Purdue university, regretting that he could not be present, but promising to use his influence to have established at the university a course in scientific baking. The association will meet at Purdue in February. Morton Simon of Cincinnati, president of the national association, delivered an address. He urged that the Indiana branch be thoroughly organized and that bakers in smaller cities be invited to join the organization. He was in favor of the Purdue project. Several speakers spoke of laboratory work in the up-to-date bakeries.

Youth Shoots Merchant.

Chinaman Is Bankrupt.

San Francisco, Dec. 1.—It is seldom that a Chinese becomes so involved financially that he is forced to call upon the federal courts for relief, but

How Hing Yuck has filed a petition in insolvency, stating that he owes $1,716 and has no assets.

The Fall of "Cuby."

While the aged, bony, white horse which is old Cuby in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" was being led from the stage of the Savoy theater to the street, over a gangway, after the first act, last night, the ramshackle old creature stumbled and fell ten feet to the dressing-room stairway.

Mabel Tallafarro was on the stairway carrying the youngster who is Tommy in the play. She screamed. Tommy howled for all there was in him! The old horse was so frightened that he got up energy enough to kick viciously.

There wasn't much left of the dressing-room stairway when three firemen from hook and ladder company No. 24 got there and heroically rescued Miss Tallafarro and the scared Tommy.—New York Sun.
